

CCC new ASG officers installed on July 1:

A special ceremony was held on July 1, to install the new 2016-2017 ASG officers. They are ready for the new school year and have set goals for 2016-2017. In addition, a special gift was presented to retiring president Deborah J. Ikeda for all of her hard work and support over the years.

CCC holds successful Extreme Registration on July 29 and 30:

New and returning students are ready to start the new semester on August 15. They attended the Extreme Registration at CCC and took advantage of the one-stop shop event. Extreme Registration was held on July 29 and 30 and was a huge success. Students had the opportunity to meet with counselors, apply for financial aid, and complete placement tests.

CCC athletics prepares for the men's and women's soccer camps:

All community college eligible men's and women's soccer players can participate in the camp. Men's will be held August 2nd - 5th from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The women's camp will be held August 3rd - 5th from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Registration will be on the first day and athletes are asked to bring shin guards, cleats, and water.

CCC holds well-attended adjunct faculty job fair:

Over 75 instructors attended the adjunct faculty job fair. It was a great turnout and attendees had the opportunity to speak with the deans from Clovis Community College, Fresno City College, and Reedley College.

CCC receives federal financial aid code:

CCC is now approved to disburse federal and state financial aid. Students can add the CCC school code 042534 to their FAFSA applications and receive their Pell Grants, SEOG, Federal Work Study, Federal Direct Student loans, and Cal Grants through CCC. Prior to earning college status, students used the school code for Reedley College.

CCC student makes his directorial debut for "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

Nicolas Cherry is excited for this production and worked with a talented crew of young actors from the Central Valley. "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," is part of the CenterStage Clovis Community Theatre and CenterStage Kids Program. It will run July 28 - 30. Visit www.centerstageclovis.com for ticket information.

CCC computer science students' project accepted for a poster session at the International C++ conference:

The conference will be held in Seattle in September. Computer science as a field is challenging in large part because the error messages received get when writing programs are cryptic and hard to understand until students have taken the upper division compilers class. The students wrote a program called "EZPC" that will run through two dozen of the most common mistakes students make, and give clear and easy to understand instructions on what they did wrong, why it's wrong, and how to fix it. It should make learning computer science a lot easier. The results from the readers were very positive, and hopefully students will be able to submit a paper to the same conference next year with measurable results.

Dr. Lori Bennett and Vice-President Kelly Fowler presented at the "2016 Curriculum Institute" on July 6:

Dr. Bennett presented "Curriculum Basics for New CIOs and Deans" at the Pathways Through Curriculum conference in Anaheim. Her workshop was designed for newer chief instructional officers (CIOs) and curriculum deans. She provided an overview of basic curriculum topics and the roles and responsibilities of curriculum committees, with a focus on the role of the CIO and deans in the curriculum process.

Kelly Fowler presented "Curriculum Basics for Senate Presidents, Deans, and Chief Instructional Officers." Her workshop focused on the communication links and processes necessary to ensure a smooth and balanced curriculum process at local colleges.

CCC faculty members collaborate with FCC and Reedley instructors to hold "Canvas" trainings:

Teresa Ishigaki, Brent Nabors, and Vikki Piper have partnered with FCC and Reedley on multiple Canvas trainings this summer. Four of the trainings were held at CCC. A 4-week hybrid training course in Canvas was held for the CCC faculty. There are two shorter trainings on the flex-day schedule with plans to add trainings throughout the fall semester. Canvas is the Course Management System chosen by the California Community College system for delivering high-quality online courses.

CCC Tutorial Center assisted hundreds of students during summer school sessions:

The Tutorial Center accommodated summer school students by offering summer hours at the Herndon and main campus. Students visited the center and received tutoring in various subjects such as English, math, psychology, chemistry, organic chemistry, music, and communication. Many of the students have not previously taken summer school courses and greatly benefitted from the Tutorial Center services.
