Celebrating Ten Years of Empowering Student Success

As we celebrate this milestone anniversary, I am proud to share how Clovis Community College has grown into one of California's most dynamic institutions of higher education. I am proud to share the remarkable student achievements and institutional successes of this past year.

Our achievements this year reflect the dedication of our entire college community. The Campaign for College Opportunity recognized us as a "Champion of Higher Education" for the SEVENTH consecutive year, honoring our exceptional work in awarding Associate Degrees for Transfer. This sustained recognition demonstrates our unwavering commitment to helping students achieve their transfer goals. The Campaign also named us a 2024 "Champion of Excellence" for our achievements in increasing Black student success in English placement, a distinction that underscores our focus on equity and inclusive excellence.

We are also a cohort of the prestigious Achieving the Dream network, which brings together institutions dedicated to advancing student success and closing achievement gaps. Through this partnership, we continue to refine our practices and share innovative strategies that improve outcomes for all students. Our highly qualified faculty members, dedicated classified professionals, and supportive administrators work together to ensure that every student who walks through our doors receives the personalized attention and comprehensive support they need to thrive.

At Clovis Community College, we are committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility. We want everyone who attends our college to feel welcome and supported, and we are committed to providing all our students with the help they need to reach their educational and career goals.

History of Clovis Community College

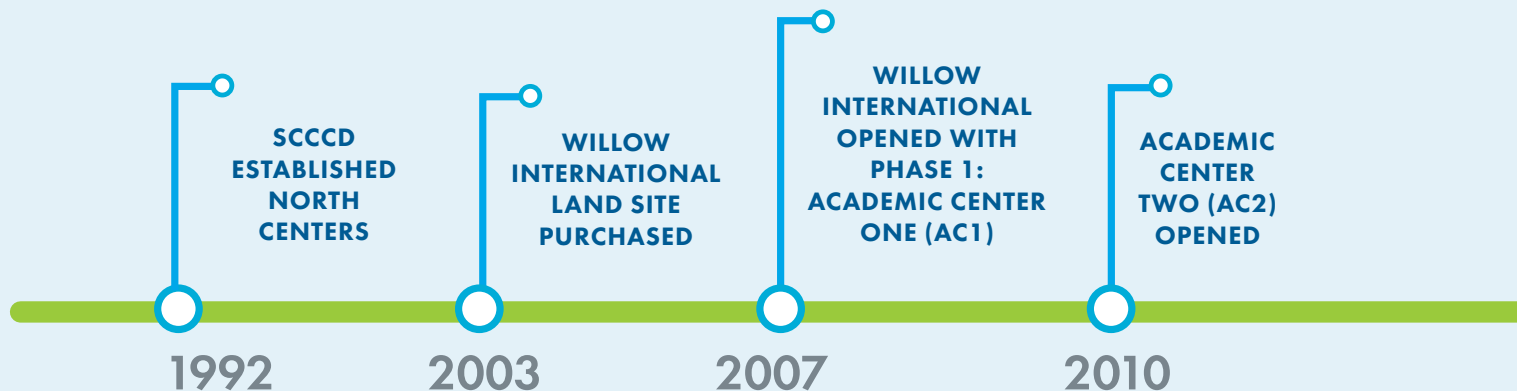

During the 1990s, the State Center Community College District established centers in the district's northern area in an effort to increase the educational and student support services offered to the residents in that area. The Board of Trustees assigned Reedley College to assume the lead role in the development of sites in Madera and Oakhurst. In 1992, the Clovis site was established when the district purchased land on Herndon Avenue and buildings that were previously owned by a private college. This same year, the Chancellor, with the approval of the Board, established a new entity called the "North Centers" of the State Center Community College District, which was inclusive of the Clovis, Madera, and Oakhurst campuses. A Vice Chancellor of the North Centers was hired to oversee the Centers as Chief Executive Officer.

In 2003, in response to the growth at the Clovis site, the Board of Trustees completed the acquisition of 110 acres for a permanent site located at Willow and International Avenues in Fresno across the street from Clovis Unified School District's future Clovis North High School. The Willow International Community College Site was planned to replace the much smaller Clovis campus, one of the three original North Centers' sites. The new Center opened in Fall 2007 with a single building, Academic Center One, and served the north Fresno/greater Clovis area.

The first phase included an 80,000 square foot Academic Center named Academic Center One, which included computer laboratories, a multi-media studio, art studio, physics and science laboratories, an assembly hall, distance learning and traditional classrooms, a library, student services, and offices. The facility also included a central plant, café, and bookstore. The $50 million funding for the complex was obtained through local and state bond monies.

In addition to the phase one facilities described above, state funding was acquired to construct a Child Development Center through collaboration with the Clovis Unified School District and State Center Community College District. The facility is used as a licensed childcare laboratory for high school and college students taking child development and pre-teaching courses. The $6 million building is comprised of state-of-the-art facilities, including a playground, funded through a grant from the Fresno County First Five organization.

In Fall 2010, a second Academic Center opened adding another 80,000 square feet of instructional and support service space. Academic Center Two includes a Counseling Center, Admissions and Records Office, Financial Aid Office, Library, Assessment Center, Dance Studio, Fitness Center, science labs, offices, and other classrooms. As with Academic Center One, funding for the facility came from local bond and matching state bond funding.

During Fall 2014, in anticipation of becoming the next fully accredited college in the State Center Community College District, the Willow International Community College Center changed its name to Clovis Community College Center. In July 2015, Clovis Community College was granted college status, and the Fall 2015 semester marked the campus' first as the third fully accredited college in State Center Community College District and the 113th community college in California.

In Spring 2022, construction began on the 68,500 square foot Applied Technology Building, completed in October, 2024. Various Career Technology Education programs are housed in the state-of-the-art building.

In Summer 2025, construction began on the new ISE (Isaiah, Samuel, and Elijah) Diamond L.I.F.E. (Learning is for Everyone) Sports Complex. The facility will elevate the student-athlete experience at Clovis Community College and will be a point of pride for our campus and the community.

Jami Hamel De La Cerda, founder and CEO of Diamond Learning Center, Inc., made a $500,000 gift to Clovis Community College in 2024, and the sports complex was named for her in recognition of her generosity.

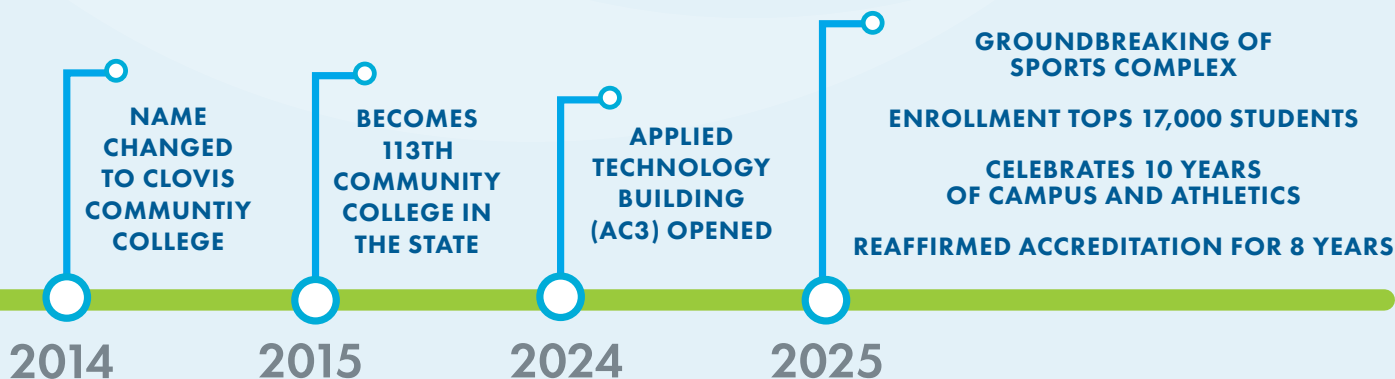

More than 17,000 students attended Clovis Community College in 2024-2025. The college offers approximately 1,550 courses annually in over 60 areas of study and gives students a choice of Associate Degrees, Associate Degrees for Transfer, and Certificates of Achievement. Instructional and Student Support Service opportunities are available to all students. Instructional opportunities include traditional classrooms, online, and hybrid (a mix of online and face-to-face) modalities. Courses, programs, degrees, and certificates were offered through the Reedley College catalog and curriculum until Clovis Community College was granted accreditation. Student Support Services include academic counseling and support, Admissions and Records, Financial Aid, Health and Psychological Services, Library, and Tutorial Center.

WHAT IS STATE CENTER VISION 2035

SCCCD recently embarked on the transformational journey to develop the next long-term plan. This integrated plan aligns District Services and all State Center Colleges, leveraging a shared mission, vision, and values as our foundation for success. This framework, crafted through extensive internal and external collaboration, addresses present and future challenges. Our mission, vision, and values drive Districtwide and College long-term goals and shared measures of success.

VISION

Advancing equitable student access and achievement is at the heart of our work at State Center Community College District.

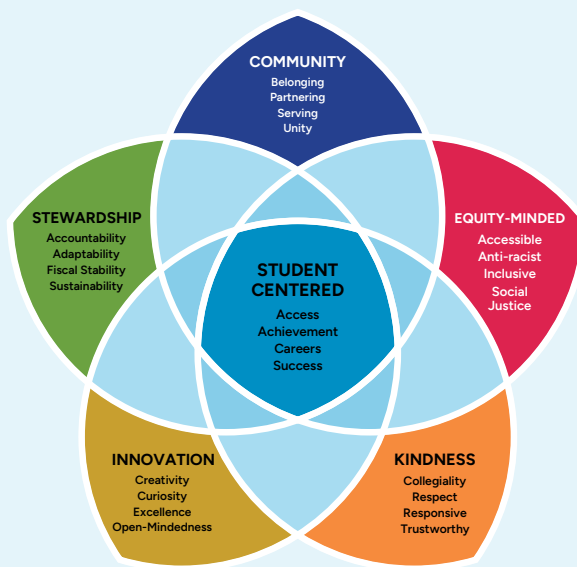

MISSION

We – the faculty, classified professionals, administrators, and Trustees at our four colleges, off-campus sites, and District Office – are united by this vision.

In collaboration across the District and with our community partners, we serve the diverse Central Valley and strengthen our vibrant economy. We efficiently deliver a comprehensive array of postsecondary educational programs and support services to meet a range of student needs and student goals, including associate and baccalaureate degrees, transfer, employment-ready certificates, and lifelong learning.

Together, we create innovative, inclusive, and anti-racist teaching and learning environments at each of our four colleges – Fresno City College, Reedley College, Clovis Community College, and Madera Community College – that are welcoming, accessible, and student-centered, designed to bolster our students' social and economic mobility locally, regionally, and globally.
