CREATING OPPORTUNITIES
ONE STUDENT AT A TIME

President
Kim E. Armstrong, Ph.D.
Clovis Community College

President’s Message

Welcome to Clovis Community College. I am honored and humbled to serve as the 3rd president of Clovis Community College—Home of the “Crush!”

We truly believe in our mission of “Creating Opportunities – One Student at a Time.”

Our highly qualified faculty members, dedicated classified professionals, and supportive administrators are committed to your success.

Statewide and National Recognition for Outstanding Transfer Rates: For the sixth consecutive year, the Campaign for College Opportunity named Clovis Community College a “Champion of Higher Education” in California for our exemplary work in awarding Associate Degrees for Transfer (ADT). Clovis Community College was also named a 2023 Equity Champion of Higher Education based on the number of Associate Degrees for Transfer earned by Latinx and Black students.

We are especially proud of this award because Clovis Community College is committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility. We want everyone who attends our college to feel welcome and supported, and we are committed to providing all our students with the help they need to reach their educational and career goals. We work closely with our K-12 and university partners to provide clear transfer pathways or workforce opportunities.

Recently, the Aspen Institute selected Clovis Community College as one of the top 150 community colleges nationwide, making our college eligible to compete for the 2023 Aspen Prize. Previously, Clovis Community College was a Top 10 Finalist for the national Bellwether Award. As one of the newest colleges in the California Community College system, we are proud of our achievements and even more proud of our amazing students.

Clovis Community College is one of the fastest growing community colleges in California and now serves over 13,000 students each year.

We offer more than 100 degrees and certificates in a wide range of transfer and career areas. Whether you are attending Clovis Community College to earn a transfer degree, an associate degree, or to complete a workforce certificate and upgrade job skills, we can assist you in creating an educational plan to help you reach your goals. We also provide a wide range of student support services, opportunities to explore career options, and a variety of engaging student activities.

Our caring faculty are experts in their fields and work to provide active, engaging coursework both online and in person. All of our student services, including counseling and tutoring, are available in person and online. We also offer access to several clubs, a food pantry, farmers market and clothing closet.

Mission, Vision & Values

We honor diversity and serve all students of our community.

We promote opportunities for

P.O.D.E.R. is a Title V grant aimed at helping Latinx and/or low-income students succeed in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM). The goal is to increase the number of Hispanic and/or low-income students in the Central Valley who have access to and complete degrees or certificates in STEM disciplines through guided pathways and partnerships to support increased transfer into 4-year university.

Speech and Debate Team Earns Championships at Recent Tournaments

The Speech and Debate Team took home several awards at the Pacific Southwest Collegiate Forensics Association (PSCFA) "Jim Wyman" Spring Championship Tournament on February 23-25, 2024. The team earned the second place award plaque. President and Founder of the club, Mikaela Silva, placed third in Extemporaneous Speaking and Vice President Audrey Turner earned Gold in International Public Debate (IPDA) and placed 5th overall as a speaker.

The Fall championships tournament was held on December 1-3 at Mt. San Antonio College. The tournament was a large event hosting over 40 colleges nationwide, including University of Utah and Northwestern University in Illinois. There were over 900 entries in the various events offered, and in the end, our Speech and Debate were victorious. Out of our ten competitors, seven of them qualified for the final rounds.

- » Audrey Turner went undefeated in six rounds of International Public Debate Association (IPDA) style debate and took Gold. Audrey also took fourth place speaker out of 107 speakers in the division.
- » Mikaela Silva took Silver in her division in IPDA style debate.
- » Ivan Garcia-Cervantes took Silver in his division in IPDA style debate.
- » Zamzam Ali took Gold in her division in NFA-LD (also known as Lincoln-Douglas Debate).
- » Cristina Espinosa took Silver in their division for After Dinner Speaking.
- » Ariel Davis took 4th place overall in their division for Program Oral Interpretation.
- » Devin Redding took 3rd place in his division for Program Oral Interpretation.

Congratulations to these amazing students and outstanding Speech and Debate Club Advisor Nathan Wensko.

History of Clovis Community College

During the 1990's, the State Center Community College District established centers in the district's northern area in an effort to increase the educational and student support services offered to the residents in that area. The Board of Trustees assigned Reedley College to assume the lead role in the development of sites in Madera and Oakhurst. In 1992, the Clovis site was established when the district purchased the Herndon Avenue land and buildings that were previously owned by a private college. This same year, the Chancellor, with the approval of the Board, established a new entity called the "North Centers" of the State Center Community College District, which was inclusive of the Clovis, Madera, and Oakhurst campuses. A Vice Chancellor of the North Centers was hired to be the Chief Executive Officer (CEO).

In 2003, in response to the growth at the Clovis site, the Board of Trustees completed the acquisition of 110 acres for a permanent site located at Willow and International Avenues in Fresno across the street from the Clovis Unified School District. The Willow International Community College Center site was approved through a Substantive Change by the ACCJC Substantive Change Committee on November 16, 2007 and was built to replace the much smaller Clovis campus, one of the three original North Centers' sites. The new Center opened in Fall 2007 with a single building, Academic Center One, and served the north Fresno/greater Clovis area.

The first phase included an 80,000 square foot Academic Center, Academic Center One, which included computer laboratories, a multi-media studio, art studio, physics and science laboratories, an assembly hall, distance learning, and traditional classrooms, a library, student services, and offices. The facility also included a central plant, café, and bookstore. The $50 million funding for the complex was obtained through local and state bond monies.

In addition to the phase one facilities described above, funding was awarded through AB-16 California Joint Use Facilities legislation to construct a Child Development Center (CDC) through collaboration with the Clovis Unified School District (CUSD) and State Center Community College District (SCCCD). The facility is used as a licensed childcare laboratory for high school and college students taking child development and pre-teaching courses. The $6 million building is comprised of state-of-the-art facilities, including a playground, funded through a grant from the Fresno County First Five organization.

In Fall 2010, the second Academic Center opened adding another 80,000 square feet of instructional and support service space. Academic Center Two includes a Counseling Center, Admissions and Records Office, Financial Aid Office, Library, Assessment Center, Dance Studio, Fitness Center, three chemistry labs, three biology labs, healthcare skills lab, two distance learning conference rooms, one distance learning classroom, a large-group instruction lecture hall, offices, and other classrooms. As with Academic Center One, funding for the facility came from local bond and matching state bond funding.

During Fall 2014, in anticipation of becoming the next fully accredited college in the State Center Community College District, the Willow International Community College Center changed its name to Clovis Community College Center. In July 2015, Clovis Community College Center was granted college status, and the Fall 2015 semester marked the campus' first as the third fully accredited college in State Center Community College District and the 113th community college in California.

In 2022, construction began on the new Applied Technology Building. The Applied Technology Building is 68,500 square feet and was completed in Spring of 2024. Various Career Technology Education (CTE) programs are housed in the state-of-the-art building including Mechatronics, Occupational Therapy Assistant, and Digital and Commercial Music. Also included in the building are large group instruction classes, faculty and administration offices, student study spaces, lecture classrooms, and meeting rooms.

Over 13,100 students attended Clovis Community College in 2022-2023. The college offers approximately 1,550 courses annually in over 60 areas of study and gives students a choice of Associate Degrees, Associate Degrees for Transfer, and Certificates of Achievement. Instructional and Student Support Service opportunities are available to all students. Instructional opportunities include traditional classrooms, online, and hybrid (a mix of online and face-to-face) modalities. Courses, programs, degrees, and certificates were offered through the Reedley College catalog and curriculum until Clovis Community College was granted accreditation. Student Support Services include academic counseling and support, Admissions and Records, Financial Aid, Health and Psychological Services, Library, and Tutorial Center.

The presidents, in order of tenure are:

Dr. Terral W. Kershaw, Campus President Willow International/ Community College Center (2012)

Deborah J. Ikeda, Campus President Clovis Community College Center (2012) Founding President Clovis Community College (2015)

Dr. Lori Bennett, President Clovis Community College (2016)

Dr. Kim E. Armstrong, President Clovis Community College (2023)

The District

In the heart of California, State Center Community College District boasts both the State's oldest and newest colleges. Fresno City College, Reedley College, Clovis Community College, Madera Community College, and Madera Community College at Oakhurst offer educational opportunities to 1.7 million people across more than 5,500 square miles, including most of Fresno and Madera counties and parts of Kings and Tulare counties.

Our campuses provide innovative, inclusive and antiracist teaching and learning environments, while promoting exemplary educational opportunities. Our safe, inclusive, and supportive learning environments lead to student success and global competitiveness, which will transform our region.
